

Statement Skyhills.com:

"Official Statement regarding allegation related to the domainskyhills.nl

We wish to formally address recent allegations by clarifying that the domain skyhills.nl is not affiliated with our company or operations in any way. It is a parasitic and unauthorized imitation site that has unlawfully copied our proprietary content, including our Terms & Conditions and licensing footer, in an attempt to mislead users.

Our official and licensed domain is skyhills.com and do not offer services in the Dutch language. Any claims suggesting otherwise are entirely inaccurate and misleading. Importantly, the operators of skyhills.nl appear to be intentionally capitalizing on the goodwill of the Skyhills brand and driving traffic through their parasitic network to unrelated third-party sites. This includes the use of unofficial and uncommissioned social media activity—including on platforms such as TikTok—which has not been authorized or initiated by Igloo Ventures or any affiliated entity.

We take this matter extremely seriously. In response, we have already initiated multiple actions to address the infringement and are attaching several DCMA takedown requests as evidence of our ongoing efforts. We are actively pursuing the removal of the skyhills.nl domain and will continue to take all necessary legal steps to protect our brand, our users, and our compliance standing."